

Basic Structure of the Website:

Layout of the website

Homepage:

- Logo of the business and names
- Vision and Mission
- Summary of services provided
- Contact details
- Social Media accounts?? (Haven't started any but that might be advantageous)
- Buttons to different pages (Packages, Tutor profiles, etc)

Packages Page:

For now, you can create those different buttons to different options/pages. I still have to work on what excel I want on each page – your option in this matter will go a long way.

The function of the site:

- Platform to get all the business details and the services provided.
- Serve as a connection between the tutors(employees) and students(clients).
- Include all the different packages and the prices of set packages.
- Payment system (A System that allows transactions to be paid to BMSI, they also need to take their fee on each transaction made.)
- An interface that is for the Tutors, where they can login and create a profile with all the relevant details. (like qualifications, hours they are available etc.)
- An interface for the student(clients), They also need to create a profile then afterwards they should go to a page that will allow them to pick the different option they, also see all the available tutors and times available after all of that they book a lesson by paying a deposit so the time slot can be book with that specific tutor.

On the call we had, we discussed most of the operations, I think you can refer back to that conversation.
